Buttons was a lost dog. He had been wandering around for days, trying to find his way back home. He was hungry and tired, and he didn't know what to do.

One day, Buttons saw a boy sitting on a bench in the park. The boy was reading a book, and Buttons sat down next to him. The boy looked up from his book and smiled at Buttons.

"Hello," said the boy. "What's your name?"

"My name is Buttons," said the dog.

"I'm lost," said Buttons. "Can you help me find my way home?"

"Sure," said the boy. "I can help you."

The boy and Buttons walked around the park, looking for Buttons' home. They asked other people if they had seen Buttons before, but no one had.

Finally, they came to a house that looked familiar to Buttons. He ran up to the front door and started barking.

The door opened and a woman came out. She smiled when she saw Buttons.

"Buttons!" she said. "I'm so glad you're home!"

Buttons ran into the house and jumped into the woman's arms. He was so happy to be home.

The boy smiled and waved goodbye to Buttons. He was glad that he had been able to help Buttons find his way home.

Buttons lived happily ever after in his home with his family. He was so grateful to the boy who had helped him find his way home, and he never forgot the boy's kindness.

Buttons Finds Home is a heartwarming story about the power of kindness and the importance of home. It is a perfect story for young readers ages 4-8.
