Here is a guide to some of the most peaceful temples and gardens in the city:

Temples

- Wat Pho is one of the most popular temples in the city, and for good reason. The temple is home to a number of beautiful Buddha images, as well as a large reclining Buddha that is over 46 meters long. The temple is also surrounded by a number of gardens, which are perfect for taking a stroll and enjoying the peace and quiet.

- Wat Arun is another popular temple in the city, and is known for its stunning architecture. The temple is located on the banks of the Chao Phraya River, and offers beautiful views of the city. The temple is also home to a number of gardens, which are perfect for relaxing and enjoying the scenery.
- Wat Saket is a smaller temple than Wat Pho and Wat Arun, but it is equally peaceful and beautiful. The temple is located on a hill, and offers panoramic views of the city. The temple is also home to a number of gardens, which are perfect for taking a break from the hustle and bustle of city life.

Gardens

- Lumphini Park is one of the largest parks in the city, and is a great place to escape the heat and noise of the city. The park is home to a number of trees and flowers, as well as a large lake where you can go boating or fishing. The park is also a popular spot for picnics and barbecues.
- Chatuchak Park is another popular park in the city, and is known for its large market. The market is a great place to find souvenirs and handicrafts, as well as a variety of food and drinks. The park is also home to a number of gardens, which are perfect for taking a stroll and enjoying the peace and quiet.
- Benjakitti Park is a smaller park than Lumphini Park and Chatuchak Park, but it is equally peaceful and beautiful. The park is located on the banks of the Chao Phraya River, and offers beautiful views of the city.

The park is also home to a number of gardens, which are perfect for taking a break from the hustle and bustle of city life.

These are just a few of the many peaceful temples and gardens in the city. If you are looking for a place to escape the hustle and bustle of city life, be sure to visit one of these places. You won't be disappointed.
