Ilich Ramírez Sánchez, better known as Carlos the Jackal, was a notorious terrorist who was responsible for numerous attacks and kidnappings in the 1970s and 1980s. He was a master of disguise and deception, and he was able to evade capture for many years.

Carlos was born in Caracas, Venezuela, in 1949. His father was a wealthy lawyer, and his mother was a devout Catholic. Carlos attended a Catholic school, and he was a bright and inquisitive student. However, he became increasingly rebellious as he got older, and he eventually dropped out of school.

In the late 1960s, Carlos traveled to the Middle East, where he became involved in the Palestinian cause. He joined the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine (PFLP), and he quickly rose through the ranks. Carlos was a skilled guerrilla fighter, and he soon became one of the most feared terrorists in the world.

In 1975, Carlos led a group of terrorists in an attack on the OPEC headquarters in Vienna, Austria. The attack resulted in the deaths of three people, and it brought Carlos to the attention of the international community. Carlos continued to carry out attacks and kidnappings in the years that followed, and he became one of the most wanted men in the world.

In 1994, Carlos was finally captured by French authorities. He was sentenced to life in prison, and he is currently incarcerated in France. Carlos has never expressed remorse for his crimes, and he remains a symbol of terrorism to this day.
